

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. ## FOREWORD

In publishing a fifth edition of the Tuberculosis Directory, it has been considered advisable to make a number of changes from the plan of previous editions. The Directory information, instead of being contained in one bound volume, is presented in pamphlet form as follows:

1. Directory of tuberculosis associations and committees (Pamphlet 110).
2. Directory of dispensaries, clinics and classes for special treatment of tuberculosis (Pamphlet 111).
3. Directory of sanatoria, hospitals and day camps for the treatment of tuberculosis (Pamphlet 112).

The number of associations and committees in this edition is 1030, as compared with 1324 similar organizations listed in the fourth edition, published in 1916. While the number of associations has decreased slightly since 1916, it should be borne in mind that this does not in any way indicate a retardation in the organized campaign against tuberculosis. It is a significant fact that in the last three years the tendency to organize on county lines has been very marked. This means that in many instances the work promoted by two or three or more committees in small towns has been combined into that of a county organization with possibly a paid executive secretary. In New York State, for instance, 472 associations and committees were listed in the 1916 Directory. There are now only 77. Yet the amount of territory covered by organizations that are really active has been enormously increased. In general, the amount of organized territory has been vastly enlarged since 1916 in most, if not in all, of the states. Attention is also called to the fact that there is now an active working state association in each of the 48 states. A large number of county and local associations, which could have been classed as merely "paper" organizations in 1916, are now active twelve months of the year.

It is interesting to note also that many of the associations, especially the state organizations, have shortened their names, just as the National Tuberculosis Association has changed its name from the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

Those who use the Directory information will also be interested to know that the latest data obtainable in regard to all tuberculosis activities is constantly on file in the office of the National Tuberculosis Association. Each institution and association is listed in the card file which is corrected daily. Although the three Directory pamphlets now issued do not contain data in regard to hospitals for the insane and penal institutions having special provision for tuberculosis patients, information regarding all these institutions is on file in the executive office. The calls for such information are somewhat infrequent and are usually requests for technical information not covered in the Directory, and for these reasons it was thought advisable to omit their publication.

The introduction of the 1916 Directory said in regard to open air schools: "The present edition contains mention of more than 300 different institutions, and this section is manifestly incomplete because of the impossibility of collecting information rapidly enough to keep this part of the Directory complete. The open air school has transcended the limits of the anti-tuberculosis campaign, and while its primary development has been due largely to the tuberculosis movement, it is now coming to be more and more a part of the educational movement, where it rightly belongs. The open air school is both an educational and a health measure." Because of this large increase in the number of open air and fresh air schools, some of which are not connected with the tuberculosis movement, it seemed unwise to attempt the publication of a complete list of these schools. For a Directory of these schools and for other information on the subject, correspondence is invited with the Elizabeth McCormick Memorial Fund, 315 Plymouth Court, Chicago.

Information in regard to tuberculosis agencies in Canada may be obtained from the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, Bank Street Chambers, Ottawa.

For assistance in revising and correcting the Directory material, the National Association is especially indebted to the executive secretaries of the state tuberculosis associations and this opportunity is taken to express the thanks of the National Association to them and to all others who have aided in gathering and revising the information contained in the three Directory pamphlets.

CHARLES J. HATFIELD, M. D.,

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

The term "committee" as used in this list of tuberculosis associations and committees indicates that the agency named is a part of some charitable, social or civic organization or of a state or county tuberculosis

* Two other directories are published by the National Tuberculosis Association:
A Directory of Sanatoria, Hospitals and Day Camps for the Treatment of Tuberculosis in the United States (Pamphlet 111; price, 50 cents).
A Directory of Dispensaries, Clinics and Classes for Special Treatment of Tuberculosis in the United States (Pamphlet 112; price, 50 cents).

ALABAMA

society. A few associations whose sphere is in the more general fields of health or social work, but which give special attention to tuberculosis, have been included.

The associations are grouped alphabetically according to location under their respective states; the only exception being in the case of state associations which are uniformly listed first. The figures in parentheses after the name of an association indicate the date of founding the organization.
